Subject: A1(1) Hong Kong is an inalienable part of China

    Move To:

Yes, HK is definitely an inalienable part of China. HK is part of China.

Subject: A1(3) The Chief Executive (CE) is appointed by the CPG. He is accountable to both the CPG and the HKSAR

    Move To:

The CE is appointed by the CPG. He is accountable to the CPG to govern HKSAR. So the CE is also responsible for the affairs of the HKSAR.

Subject: A2(1) What should 'actual situation' constitute

    Move To:

"Actual situation" means how well is the residents of HKSAR in understanding politics, their knowledge of independent views on analysing the issues without blindly following the influence of the vocal and usually minority (e.g. do not react blindly such as the rush to the supermarket in the first minute when they heard the unfounded rumour that HKSAR would be announced as the "infected city" in 2003), their openness of their "balance view" of all sectors/spectrum of all HK people and the actual pros and cons of what HKSAR needs in maintaining her prosperity and freedom that we have been enjoying and not deteriorating since 1990s' and after 1997.

Subject: A2(2) How 'gradual and orderly progress' should be understood

    Move To:

"Gradual and orderly progress" means gradual and orderly. It is no sudden change such as if 50% direct election changed to 100% overnight. It should be over years and the period is dependent on the education of the people, especially the younger generation, in understanding their country and share the "One Country, two System" spirit; that is ONE COUNTRY, knowing their country and sharing the belongingness of being part of the mother country. HK has been under British rule, British education/influence for 150 years. Their (HK residents') mind set cannot be changed over a few or "ten or so" years when compared to 150 years. It takes time to change ones behavior or to learn and understand. That's is why it should be gradually and orderly, bit by bit.

Subject: A3(1) Meet 'the interests of the different sectors of society'

    Move To:

Different sectors of society means most level or different background of society, such as professional people e.g. teachers, doctors, engineers, etc. Also different business sectors such as business owners' associations, industrialists, workers unions, owners' union, etc. If all are by direct election, it would not represent all different sectors as the politicians will only aim at getting the votes but not having a balanced view.
