Subject:Objection to Universal Suffrage by 2007-2008

Dear Sir,

This is to let our relevant department to know that I, as a local borned citizen of Hongkong, objects the idea of implementing the Universal Suffrage any time before 2100. My person views are simple. HK is not ready yet!

Mr. Leung Kwok Hung, more known as the Long Hair, has been elected as our Law Maker, a Member in the Legco. I think this is ridiculous! Mr. Leung is nothing more than a rascal, a scoundrel, an uncivilized mob who has never shown any capability & credential being a Law Maker. His being elected has clearly indicated that HK people are far from mature casting their votes discriminately, and rationally. If this story is to be repeated in 2008 and Mr. Leung, a veritable rascal and social spoiler, is elected to be our Chief Executive, I think that would sound the death knell of HK and we, the 7 millions of citizens will find no reason to stay here but to go!

In conclusion, my personal opinion is "No Universal Suffrage" in any foreseeable future until the voters are more knowledgeable and sensible to cast their votes.

Thanks!

Yours Sincerely,
May Ng
